- authors: the number of authors from this country. If the same author co-authored k papers he will be counted k times.
- submitted: the overall “share” of this country in the number of submissions. If a submission has m coauthors, then each one will be counted as $1/m$. For example, if a submission has one author from the UK and two from the USA, then it will be counted as $1/3$ submissions for the UK and $2/3$ submissions for the USA.
- accepted: the overall “share” of this country in the number of accepted submissions counted in the same way as submitted.
- acceptance rate: this is simply the ratio submitted/accepted for this country.
- PC members: the number of PC members from this country.

Many Thanks to

- the authors!
- PC members and external reviewers!
- ALGO organizers!
